

For each child you have please answer the following questions about each one. If you have more than three children please copy and attach the information on any additional children. Joint Legal Custody is presumed to be the normal arrangement and in the child's best interest unless one parent is found to be unfit or unable to exercise good judgment on matters concerning the education, health and welfare of the child. If you want the court to order Sole Legal Custody and the other party does not agree you must be prepared to show that it would not be in the child's best interest for your spouse to be awarded Joint Legal Custody. Generally, this type of case is beyond the costs associated with an uncontested divorce.

Please describe your intentions for parenting time (visitation) with each child. Consider the effects on each child based on age, travel distances, and your ability to meet that obligation. Please note days of the week by M/T/W/TH/F/S/SU designations. For years use every year, even or odd years. It is best to alternate and spread out the time over the course of the year if it all possible. If distance is a factor consider alternating Thanksgiving and Christmas. New Year's may go with the winter vacation.
